COMPLETE HEALTH NUTRITION

MEETING THE NEEDS OF MODERN LIFESTYLES

We all desire abundant health, vitality, focus, energy, proper weight, youthful-looking skin, and to stay free of disease. This can all be achieved through healthy cell production and maintenance.

Healthy cells = healthy tissues = healthy glands and organs = healthy systems = healthy you.

Cells are like small factories that run, repair, and replicate themselves. Each cell in our body requires it's own specific level of vitamins, minerals, amino acids, fatty acids, and sugars in their most natural form, in order to fulfill its programmed (in its DNA) functions.

Cellular health begins in the gut. A healthy gut digests the food you eat in order to extract vital nutrients and transport them across the gut wall into the bloodstream where they are delivered to cells on demand. A healthy gut wall is also designed to prevent toxins, waste, and pathogens from leaking into the body.

However, the over exposure to nutritionally depleted foods, toxins in everything we eat, drink, and breathe, and the stresses of modern life have been shown to damage our healthy cells. This often results in the destruction of a healthy gut, poor nutrient absorption, leaky gut, and can cause relentless hyperinflammatory responses throughout the body that have been identified as the root cause of cellular dysfunction and almost every chronic disease and disorder.

At Alovéa, we have shown that health restoration and maintenance, in spite of modern lifestyles, can be as simple as 1, 2, 3. We achieve this by utilizing nature's most powerful nutrients in their most natural form in order to:

1. Restore and maintain a healthy gut - CORE
2. Restore and maintain healthy cells - OPTIPACK
3. Address your health concern - TARGET PRODUCT
